

NEW YORK FILM FESTIVAL

New York City

October 6 – 11, 2010

Join Stephen Farber on an exciting fall getaway to the New York Film Festival, one of the oldest and most prestigious film festivals in the United States. After a few years of construction, the Festival returned last year to its home in the redesigned Alice Tully Hall at Lincoln Center, which has earned rave reviews from all the local architecture critics. The New York Film Festival has always been celebrated for screening the newest and most important cinematic works by directors from around the world

But the movies are only part of the fun of our adventure in New York. We will take advantage of New York's many cultural opportunities and gourmet dining choices, while we also meet top international filmmakers.

Our one-of-a-kind package includes:

ABOUT THIS FESTIVAL

The New York Film Festival offers an unparalleled showcase of inspiring and provocative cinema by emerging talents and first-rank international artists whose films are often recognized as contemporary classics. Unlike some other American festivals that run hundreds of films from morning to night, the New York Festival has always emphasized quality over quantity, with a very selective program that includes some top prize-winners from international festivals as well as award-caliber American films enjoying their world premieres.

WE'LL TAKE MANHATTAN

Early autumn is a beautiful time to visit Manhattan, and we will have lunches and dinners at some of the best restaurants all over the city. New York is a gourmet heaven, and Stephen Farber likes to eat well! Our trips have become known for being food fests in addition to showcasing interesting and provocative films. You can expect more of the same, as we treat you to some delightful restaurant discoveries in NYC as well as reprising some popular favorites.

We will also catch a top Broadway or off-Broadway show and enjoy a special tour at one of New York's many world-class art museums. Expect some other surprises on this exhilarating five-day cultural and dining marathon.

The Empire Hotel will be our pied-a-terre, ideally located across from Lincoln Center with convenient access to subway lines to zip around Manhattan. It is also just a 5 minute walk from Central Park and Columbus Circle. The hotel was closed for a comprehensive makeover, and reopened 2 years ago in its stylish new incarnation. Its bustling lobby and adjacent bar are a perfect meeting spot before or after the screenings.

SPECIAL FOR YOU

Film critic Stephen Farber, a regular contributor to The Hollywood Reporter and The Daily Beast, will be your guide on this heady filmgoing adventure. He works in Los Angeles, where he is the host and moderator of "Reel Talk", an innovative series featuring some of the most provocative new films, along with lively discussions afterwards with top filmmakers and film stars.

Stephen Farber has led exciting trips to film festivals in Venice, Havana, Berlin, Maui, Montreal, Savannah, Palm Springs, San Sebastian (Spain), Locarno (Switzerland), and Karlovy Vary (Czech Republic). Exclusive to participants in Stephen Farber's Reel Travel tours are the opportunities to enjoy private meetings with visiting stars and filmmakers, along with other behind-the-scenes encounters. At last fall's New York Film Festival, we enjoyed an exclusive meeting with Lee Daniels, the director of Precious, a top festival prize-winner, and Oscar nominee for best picture. On our trip to the San Sebastian Film Festival in September 2008, we had a special beachside lunch with the writer-director and stars of the prize-winning Frozen River, including Oscar-nominated filmmaker Courtney Hunt and Oscar-nominated actress Melissa Leo.
